

IT STARTED HERE.

Every true Nevadan ought to contemplate with pride the way men are falling in line for silver in the East and South.

Everywhere big State conventions are being held, that loudly echo the good, old Nevada battle cry, "Sixteen to One." This slogan was first raised in Nevada and it has been the rallying cry of silver men ever since the first Silver League was formed in Dayton. Lyon County deserves the credit of the firing of the first gun for silver in this State, and now the echoes are rolling down the line. We say it without fear of successful contradiction, that had not Nevada first broken away from the old parties and raised the flag of revolt, there would have been no silver movement in the East and South now. Yet our Republican friends continually ask, "What has the Silver party of Nevada done for silver?"

The Ladies to the Front.

There has been a big fight in San Francisco over the invitation of Miss Shaw to speak at the 4th of July celebration. Her supporters have finally won and the lady, who is a fine orator, will deliver an address. This is the correct thing. The idea that the celebration of the natal day of liberty should be left to men alone, is absurd to the last degree. It was the women of America who, in the darkest days of the struggle for liberty, cheered the soldiers on to stick by their guns, until freedom was won.

Was it not Millie Pitcher who went into battle and kept a six-pound gun in action after her husband was dead beside it. But for the mothers of the revolution, independence would not have been declared, and women should be given a prominent place in the celebration of the birthday of our independence.

The 4th of July Committee of this city have selected Miss Edith Howe to write the poem of the day which is a graceful tribute to the ladies and we can only say to the committee that the more prominent the ladies become in the celebration, the more successful it will be.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Procrastination is the thief of time and may be the thief of our liberties, says the Farmer's Voice of Chicago. The people of this republic have been guilty of long continued and criminal procrastination. Bound hand and foot by partisanship they have permitted the years to come and go without a united effort to preserve the fundamental principles of the republic, and as a result there are times when political perfidy and corruption threaten to end our dream of a government of the people by the people and for the people. Politics—more important to us than anything that demands our attention—receive from thousands of our people as little thought as the zephyr that kisses our brow on a summer's night and is gone forever. Without knowing why, thousands belong to this party or that and drop their ballots into the box on election day like a machine that is set to do a certain work.

There is a war in Stockton between the Sperry flour mills and the Oregon mills. The flour combine sell flour cheaper in San Francisco than they do in Stockton, where it is manufactured and then call on the people to patronize home industry. They pay the farmers the lowest possible price for wheat and the consumers pay the highest possible price for flour. The result is that the Stockton people are buying Oregon flour. Our ranchers get 80 cents a hundred for wheat, but say that at the price Riverside flour is selling for, they ought to get $1.10.

Sibley said the straddle bug was worse than the gold bug and the Journal says:

There are, or were last Fall, something over two thousand straddle bugs in Nevada. Since then many of them have got off the fence and are no longer straddlers. A few, however, of the boss bugs are still on the top rail and will declare for silver if the "party" favors it and for gold if the "party" so decrees.

The Bimetallic union of Utah, whatever it may, will send no delegates to the Memphis silver convention. Mr. Bartine, late of Nevada, was urged to go, but important business prevented him from doing so. It is astonishing the fear silver-plated Republicans have for anything approaching a genuine, outspoken declaration for the white metal.—Silver State.
